Gustavus T. Kirby, International Figure in Athletics and War Work Activities, Will Be Principal Speaker.

"We want every team captain, every "We want every team captain, every team worker and every other man and scenar in Memphis interested in the united war work campaign to be in the front line trenches at the Good-wyn institute Friday evening at 8 ordick because we are going to get everything in readiness then to go over the top in raising the quota assigned to Memphis and Shelby county, declared G. T. Fitzhugh, chairman of the Shelby county campaign committee Friday morning.

Gustavus T. Kirby, who will be the principal speaker, is a member of the war trade board at Washington, treasurer of the war samp community service, former president of the Interestication of the American Olympic committee. In his latter capacity he attended all olympic contents at Athens, Paris, Lendon and Stockholm, the last in 1912, and sat in the German reichslag in 1913 with delegates from all parts of the world when arrangements were being made for the Clympic games to be staged in the capital of Germany in 1915.

Knows Canditions

Knows Conditions.

Knows Conditions.

He is familiar with athietics, with athietic training, and knows better than amost any other man in America what if means when the strain of the content is over and the participants are left to their own devices. And, in his talk Friday evening, he will bring to bear on the present stiuntion on the lattle front and back of the lines in France and Belgium his knowledge of the danger that confronts American solidiers and regions his knowledge of the danger that confronts American solidiers as a result of the ceasation of healibites, a consistion which, in his opinion, esems very close at hand.

Secretary of War Baker has very fittingly said: Let the acars borne by our boys be only those received in actual battle; and Charles E. Hughes, former judge of the supreme court, has said with equal wisdom: Don't think because peace is coming the intlemnum is coming with it." In declared Friday.

1. Shall contrast the training which day

It shall contrast the training which German soldiers received with that given by the United States to its man and I shall bring out one point in particular, that the latter are better rounded fighting men because of the magnificent work the seven welfare organizations are doing among them in the way of building up merale and carrying the home touch to them.

Bucked Up Allies.

Bucked Up Allies.

American soldiers, when they joined the littish and the French in the fighting on the weedern front, brought new life new vigor, new strength to them-bucked them up in a way almost beyond description—because they had oven trained to the utmost in those things that give 'nep' and morale and that make them capable of rising to any situation even in battle.

There is prospect that the period of demoralization inless these welfare organizations continue their activities in behalf of these boys. As an athletic trainer and as witness of the Clympie contests. I know just what it means when the strain is over and discipling is removed. That is just what is about when the strain is over and discipline is removed. That is just what is about to happen on tremendously multipfied scale and the restraining, uplifting influence of these organizations will be seeded then far more than now. "France loves America and American soldlers in a whole-hearted, beautiful way and the American government is anxious that the conduct of its men in that country after the war will be such that this love will not be impaired in the least and that the people who sjoriously halled the Americans as deliverers will be sorry to see them leave their country.

Large Activities Necessary.

"We want the American boys to come home just as good and just as clean as they are today but this will be impossible unless the welfare organizations continue their activities on an even larger scale than heretofore and unless they are in position to prevent yielding to temptation by offering counter-attractions."

Mr. Kirby reached Memphis Friday morning from Atlanta and reports that there is remarkably strong support of the united war work fund indicated everywehere because of appreciation of the trementous tasks confronting the seven organizations united in miniatering to American soldiers at home and overseas.

OF THE STATE OF TH ing Mr. Stratton and other members of the executive committee in Memphis are urging full attendance.
